

camden county

Certified Gardener's Seed Library Program

Grow Delicious, Healthy Food, & Connect with Fellow Gardeners!

What is the Camden County Seed Saving Library?

The Camden County Seed Saving Library is a collaborative effort between the Camden County Certified Gardeners, Camden County Library System, and Camden County College, sponsored by the Camden County Board of Commissioners, offering residents:

Free seeds: Receive free fruit, vegetable, herb and flower seeds from trusted seed companies and locally grown gardens.

Seed saving workshops: Learn the basics of seed saving and contribute to our collection.
Gardening resources: Access books, online resources, and advice from the Certified Gardeners helpline.

Community connection: Meet fellow gardeners, share tips, and celebrate the joy of growing!

Reap the benefits of the library by saving money, promoting biodiversity, connecting with the gardening community, and enjoying fresh, delicious food!

Go to CamdenCounty.info/seedlibrary to participate in the program and details about the seed library.

For more information:

Contact the Camden County Certified Gardeners at njgarden@camdencounty.com or 856-216-7130
508 Lakeland Road, Blackwood NJ

Join us and grow a more sustainable and vibrant Camden County!

Get Connected

CamdenCountyNJ

